Object Maps

Can the collected objects create their own spatial footprint, independent of the playground boundary?

I categorised the objects as Eating, Playing or Wearing; each group was arranged to overlap naturally.

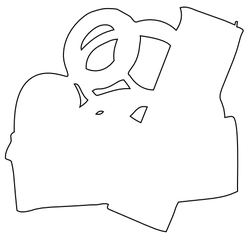

Object Maps

I then extracted the outer contour of each group and compared the three contours with the outline of the playground.

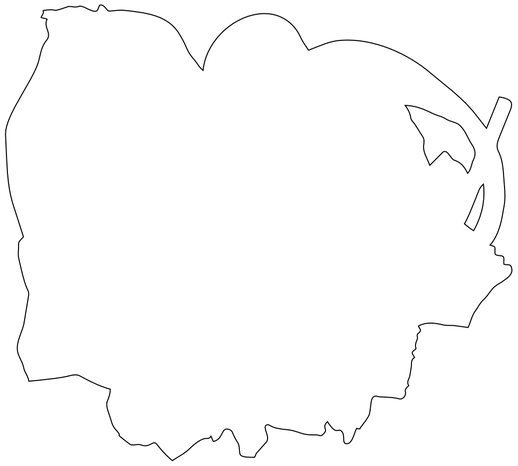

All four outlines were presented at the same A4 scale.

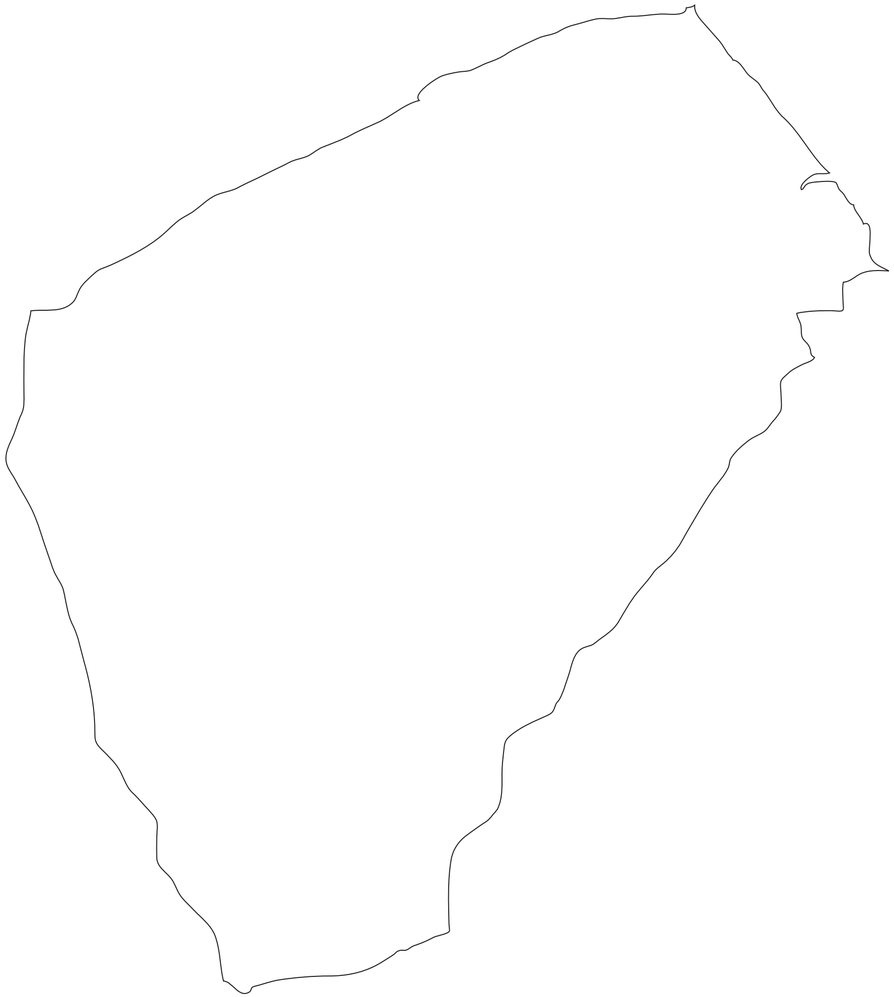

Wearing

Playing

Eating

Playground